THE HUMAN RELATIONS COMMISSION

OUR MISSION:

"To encourage involvement, participation, and inclusion of all residents of Mountain View in community affairs."

THE HUMAN RELATIONS COMMISSION:

Acts as a liaison between City government and the public and as an advisory body to the City Council, providing a forum for public discussion on community issues related to:

Tolerance

- Promoting nondiscrimination, diversity and cultural awareness

Inclusivity

- Reaching out to varied segments of the population and soliciting community input

Involvement

- Addressing barriers that may prevent some residents from participating in their local government and/or community, and assessing programs' relevance to community needs.

The City of Mountain View Human Relations Commission was established in 1994 to address economic, political, educational, and social concerns facing the community.

THE COMMISSION'S EFFORTS INCLUDE:

- Sponsoring and participating in community events that promote cultural awareness and diversity.
- Doing community outreach, establishing new and strengthening existing connections between community groups and organizations to promote common goals and interests relating to tolerance, inclusivity and involvement.
- Coordinating with City advisory groups and staff to explore potential opportunities for collaboration.
